CFG Speakers Discuss Ways To Balance Traffic and Growth

by James Giese

"A Strategy for Reducing Traffic While Allowing Development to Proceed" was the topic for the June 23 Citizens for Greenbelt meeting co-sponsored by the Greenbelt Bicycle Coalition.

Guest speaker Richard Castaldi, a county councilmember, told about transportation mitigation efforts he had initiated. Another guest speaker, Planning and Design Consultant Patrick Hare proposed a way to encourage people to bicycle and use public transportation to get to work by emphasizing cost savings. Also present for questions and answers was Frank Derro, Chief of the Transportation Division and Adequate Public Facilities for the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission.

Castaldi told the audience that he had wanted to get a growth management plan in place when he became Chair of the County Council in 1991. "We couldn't keep pace with public facilities. We couldn't keep up with growth," he said. "So I charged the Council . . . to put together a growth management policy."

A Growth Policies Subcommittee of the County Council was established with Councilmember Frank Casula its first chair. The subcommittee tackled the issue of how and where to target new residential and commercial/industrial developments, and whether to do so.

By showing on a combined map where streets were adequate to handle more traffic, where there was excess capacity in water and sewer lines and where schools were not overcrowded, "we could see where we could sustain growth and where growth would be difficult" Castaldi said. Although it took longer than we thought, the subcommittee, with Councilmember Stephen Del Giudice as its chair, reported out three bills in September 1993. The council adopted them in November.

CB-60-1993 amended the subdivision regulations to establish a procedure for constructing road improvements needed for development.

CB-61-1993 provides for the establishment of Transportation Management Demand Districts. These are areas in which vehicle trip reduction procedures, strategies and programs are required. Transportation demand strategies include car and van pools, transit use incentives, parking fees and disincentives, improved pedestrian and bicycle access and facilities. New or expanded development can be allowed in a district if these or other strategies are done to reduce vehicle trip generation during peak periods and on a daily basis.

Derro advised the listeners that two transportation management demand districts had been established—one for Prince Georges Plaza and the other for West Hyattsville. However, due to lack of development interest in these areas, nothing had been done to carry out any strategies.

The last bill, CB-62-1993, will allow developers to proceed with development while publicly financed road improvements are being undertaken if the road improvements are fully funded. "When I first got on the council, you needed only one dollar of funds provided for the improvement to be recognized in the adequate public facilities test" Castaldi said. "I worked over a number of years to change that to 100 percent of full construction money and was successful after three years of battling. In 1989 we got that measurement changed."

"We couldn't keep up with growth."

—Richard Castaldi County Council

Castaldi is now seeking legislation to require developers to contribute to the cost of new school facilities. He noted that Charles, Howard and Montgomery Counties already had school impact fees. That will complete his agenda that began with the growth management policy he initiated in 1991, he told the group.

Save Money with One Car

"A family that avoids owning two cars can save $3,000 a year and afford an increased mortgage of $34,000 for a house," was the message brought to the group by Design Consultant Patrick Hare. "That's a 34 percent increase on a $100,000 house."

Hare noted that the average car speed was 28 miles an hour, the average user speed on mass transit was only 7 miles an hour (including walking, waiting and stops) and that the average speed for bicyclists was 8 miles an hour. As a result, he acknowledged that using bicycles and public transportation is not as convenient as driving a car for weather, carrying parcels, flexibility, comfort or security.

However, he advocated selling bicycling and public transportation as a way to save money. "It's a nice, cheap, slow drag. A second car is a fast expense—$4,300 a year. Metro is not the fastest way to work, but it is the fastest way to save money." Hare reached his net savings of $3,000 figure by deducting from the $4,300 annual cost of owning a car $1,000 for transit fares and $300 for occasional car rental.

There are further savings that could be achieved if people switched from cars to transit, Hare believed. A workplace has to spend $1,000 annually to provide the worker with a car parking space and an apartment owner has to spend $600 for a parking space or $50 a month. "What if rents were reduced for tenants with only one car?" he pondered.

Bicycle Facilities

Mary Clarke asked what kind of bicycle and pedestrian facilities would be done. Castaldi responded that as chair of Metro he was instrumental in allowing bicycles to be taken onto some cars at some times. "That was another difficult battle," he said. "We gave it a try. It worked well, I hope we can get it for more rail cars, more days of the week."

He also noted that the county had a trail plan for bicyclists and pedestrians. Last year the county spent a million dollars and this year it will spend $2.4 million for constructing trails, he reported.

Derro added that there were no particular paths being done in the two transportation management districts. The money being spent is federal funds that

by Betty Allen

During the next two months, Greenbelt citizens will be nominating, and the Outstanding Citizen Committee will be selecting, Greenbelt's Outstanding Citizen of 1994. Visiting with Dorothy Pyles, 1993 award winner, I asked: "How did you feel when you recognized yourself in the presentation speech?" (The winner's name is kept secret until it is announced at the opening ceremonies of the Labor Day Festival.) Like most of our Outstanding Citizens, Dorothy was amazed at being honored — she said she only "half listened" to the speech. Nominees tend to be much involved in the community because it is important to them—not because they seek recognition.

Dorothy moved into Greenbriar in 1979, and from the beginning felt herself part of the total community. She has been described as a "bridge builder," both as a good neighbor and as a citizen activist. Friends and neighbors have come to count on her for help and support in everyday situations. As a founding member of Greenbelt East Advisory Council (GEAC), she has always seen the importance of integrating the old and new sections of the city. As initiator and supporter of the Crime Watch, she has been a benefactor of the whole city.

Dorothy moved to Washington with her parents and in 1934, at the age of 18, went to work for the NRA (National Recovery Act). Her long-term career was with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), and for much of her working life she singlehandedly raised three children in a period when this was uncommon. All three children are successful in their chosen careers.

It is a joy to talk to Outstanding Citizens; each of them is unique. They are alike only in their modesty about their achievements, their enthusiasm for Greenbelt and their on-going love of life. The Outstanding Citizen Committee encourages all Greenbelters and Greenbelt organizations to nominate persons they know for this honor. Help us to recognize those who have made Greenbelt great.

GHI Board Discusses GDC, Maintenance, Renovations

by Mary Moien

The Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes Inc. held their first summer meeting on June 16, starting at the newly agreed-upon time of 7 p.m. This new starting time was to allow for the meetings to end at an earlier time, which did not occur at this meeting. There was a brief meeting of the Greenbelt Development Corporation, which manages several apartments on Parkway. At the GHI meeting that followed, Keith Jahoda, an outgoing member of the GHI board was presented with a plaque for his dedicated service to the cooperative.

The board discussed and approved several maintenance contracts for the GDC apartments. These included masonry repair and new hallway flooring and stair treads. Some of the apartments have been renovated as people moved out. In response to a question about continued renovations Jay Freedman indicated that about half of the apartments have been renovated in eight years. The renovations depend on turnover and cash flow and labor availability. Currently the rental market is soft and there is more demand for unrenovated apartments at a lower rate.

Kris White of the Member and Community Relations Committee presented a report to the board proposing a pilot project for court representatives and a type of welcome committee. The representatives would obtain important news to be circulated from Joan Krob, GHI staff. Board member Bill Phelan suggested adding activities such as crime watch and child watch. Board President Al Freas recommended that the proposal be reviewed by the board and put on a future agenda. Newly-elected board member and treasurer, Vonda Henry, then presented the report of the GHI Finance Committee. It was also recommended for board review.

House addition request

A request for an addition to a home at 5-A Ridge Road had been before the board several times over an extended period of time. A neighbor Alan Turnbull (a board member who excused himself from the board discussion) had disagreed with the proposed addition. Staff had spent considerable time working

Thank You

We are enormously gratified by the wonderful response of so many of you — our readers — to our "voluntary subscription" drive. A hearty thank you to all.

We thought you might be interested in how we have fared. To date we have received 250 donations, totalling $5,392 and three chairs. We are currently telephoning those of you who volunteered to work.

Again this year, some of you took the time to write us a note. "Thank you for a great paper, wish I could send more," and, "we have already given a contribution, but here is an extra $10," are two of our favorites. Another reader sent us a list of ways to supplement our income.

We can tell you a couple of good things to come out of this second successful "voluntary subscription" drive: we will not have to raise our advertising rates this year and we'll be able to purchase some needed items when we move to the new community center next year.

Letters Leaders Needed

At this time of year, families around Greenbelt are celebrating the end of another school year, as summer time is again upon us.

The end of the school year also marks the end of another exciting year of the Girl Scout program in our community. This year, eight Girl Scout troops met in Greenbelt, from Daisies to Cadettes. One of three new Greenbelt troops was a much needed Brownie troop in Springhill Lake.

I'd like to thank all those adults who make Girl Scouts great in Greenbelt. Brownie Leaders, Liz Eny, Barbara Dupree and Dori White are "retiring" and they deserve a special thank you for the difference they've made in the lives of the young girls who have been in their troops over the last several years.

Many troops in Greenbelt are on the verge of collapse, with no adults expressing an interest in leading the troops. Becoming a Girl Scout troop leader is easy and rewarding. Many troops have successful "co-op" troops, with several adults serving as leaders. For more information on Girl Scouts in Greenbelt and how you can be involved, call me at 982-9626.

Junior Interpreter

An exciting new program is beginning at the National Building Museum for young people 14 and older. It is called a Junior Interpreter Program and this summer students are being recruited to conduct interactive demonstrations in the Museum's Great Hall. The demonstrations give visitors of all ages an opportunity to watch and participate in building.

For more information contact the Prince Georges Voluntary Action Center, Inc. at (301) 779-9444.

Weidenfeld Endorsed By County Educators

Former Greenbelt mayor Gil Weidenfeld, Democratic candidate for the Prince Georges County Council, has received the endorsement of the Prince Georges County Educators Association (PGCEA).

"I am very pleased that the PGCEA, which represents over 5,000 teachers in the county, has placed its confidence in me," Weidenfeld said. "Education is a top priority of my campaign and I will work hard to justify the trust of teachers, parents and citizens of our district," he added.

Weidenfeld, who served as the mayor of Greenbelt for 15 years, also has been elected to leadership positions in county and state municipal organizations and in the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments. He is seeking the Fourth District County Council seat. The district includes Bowie, Greenbelt, Glenn Dale, Mitchellville, High Bridge and portions of Lanham and Seabrook.

Barricade Incident In Springhill Lake

Based Upon Information
Released by the Greenbelt Police

According to Greenbelt Police, officers responded on July 9, at approximately 1:55 a.m. to an apartment in the 6200 block of Springhill Drive for a report of a suicide. Upon their arrival it was learned that a suicide had not occurred, but that a male resident in his late 20's had barricaded himself in a back bedroom of the apartment and refused to come out. A family member who was on the scene advised officers that the resident had several firearms in his possession and had threatened to shoot himself. The family member also advised officers that the resident had used crack cocaine and consumed alcoholic beverages prior to the officers' arrival. Information was also received that the resident had ingested a quantity of prescription pain medication.

According to a Police Department press release, a Greenbelt officer established communication with the resident in an attempt to talk him out of the apartment, however, he refused to come out. The Prince Georges County Police Department's Conflict Management Team was then contacted and responded. Further attempts to talk the resident out of the bedroom were unsuccessful. Shortly after 6 a.m., the Conflict Management Team heard what sounded like a shotgun being fired in the bedroom where the resident was barricaded. The Team broke the bedroom windows and used a mirror to view the inside. The resident was observed on the floor in a seated, slumped over position with a shotgun next to him, and blood appeared to be coming from his left side. The Conflict Management Team then entered the apartment and removed the resident.

The resident was transported to Prince Georges Hospital where examination revealed that he had suffered an apparent self-inflicted wound to his left chest area. At 1 p.m., the hospital advised that the resident was still in critical but stable condition, and that his injury was not life-threatening at this time. Investigation of the incident is continuing.

Boys & Girls Club Hosts Upcoming Football Clinic

Senior Softball

by Jerry Conway

The Greenbelt Senior Softball Team had a smashing victory over Dundalk by a score of 23-10. We have begun the second half of the nine team season of nine inning ballgames with two wins and zero losses. We intend to win the second half of the season.

The following four players scored homeruns during these games: Bernie Myles Jim McGann, Ken Scholl, and Mike Carta. Other players hit triples, doubles and singles. The triple hitters were: Jerry Conway, Al Beard, Hugh McEvoy, Harry Maloney, and Lonny Raley. We play as a good defensive team as well as a high scoring offense and we have fun with the exercise.

We tied for second place in the first half of the season with 12 wins and four losses. Our top competition comes from Bowie 60's, Dundalk and Catonsville. We lost games to those teams with only a one run score. Our team ranges in age from 63 through 74, but we hope to compete in the Maryland Senior Olympics against the 60-64 age group. We defeated Bowie 65's by 23-1, and the first two games of the second half we scored 46 runs.

Museum Doll

Exhibit Extended

The Friends of the Greenbelt Museum (FOGM) is extending the special exhibit on dolls, stuffed animals and doll house furniture of the 1930s and 1940s through September.

The popular exhibit features several baby dolls, including a 1930 Arranbee Dream Baby and its marketplace competitor, the Bye Lo Baby. The Bye Lo Baby, originally designed in 1922, was the first doll modeled after a real three-day-old infant. Also displayed is an authentic Shirley Temple doll wearing a dress with a National Recovery Administration (NRA) dress tag, embellished with the official eagle insignia.

There is a 1940 Raggedy Ann doll in her traditional print dress and starched white apron. One side shows her asleep; turn her over and she's awake.

One unusual doll on display is the 1940 "Barbie"-sized sewing mannequin. She came with Simplicity patterns in Suzanne's Fashion Designing Set. She has detachable arms so that without them she looks just like a full-sized mannequin. This doll was given to Bonnie Shields, of Greenbelt, one of the major contributors to the exhibit, by one of her former school principals, who had owned the doll when she was little.

Other dolls to see are the 1940s Storybook dolls, a line of small exquisitely dressed dolls that quickly became collectors items.

The exhibit is at the Greenbelt Museum, 10B Crescent Road. The Museum is open to the public free of charge on Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m. Special arrangements can be made for groups by calling 474-8000. Call 474-1936 for more information.

Swim Team News

by Amanda Baldauf

Hi! This is Amanda. Christine isn't here. She is off at Mary T. Meagher (yes - the Olympic Champion and World Record Holder) Swim Camp. Sniff, sniff. I'm all alone. And I'm afraid I have some bad news to report. The Greenbelt Swim Team suffered its first loss in three years this past Saturday against Strathmore Bel Pre. The final score was SPB - 288, Greenbelt - 249.

Many of our swimmers swam best times and had a wonderful day. We just came up a little short. But all hope is not lost! We have two meets and divisionals left. We can still get second place in Prince-Mont Swim League, if we do our best and swim our hardest for the next three weeks.

Triple winners this past Saturday were: Casey Connor, Ryan Hardy, and the Hilton sisters, Holly and Katie. Brendan Gardes got 13 points, Lynn Hull and Ben Kepler got 10 points each.

Everyone please remember that the Swim-a-Thon is coming up. Collect a lot of pledges, and if your pledge amount totals $25 or more, you win a new Greenbelt Swim Team t-shirt, with our new logo. So, put this paper down, get out your pledge sheet, a buddy, and a pen, and go get a lot of pledges! And also remember to think up ideas for the Divisionals t-shirt. And I guess this is it until next week, when Christine will have rejoined me. Bye!!

The Swim Team will be holding a huge multi-family yard sale & car wash in front of the Aquatic and Fitness Center on Sunday, July 17 from 9-3. All proceed to benefit the swim team.

Golden Age Club

Anyone interested in the August trip to Crisfield and Tangier Island should contact Jim Maher at 513-5869. I hope all seniors are enjoying the summer and its activities.

on this request over a period of 1½ years. A member of the Architecture and Environment Committee reported that with new changes to the plans, the committee voted in favor of the exception.

A long discussion followed, with Turnbull stating that the addition does not follow the recommendations in the "Green Book" and that he had bought in a row that had no additions and was close to the original GHI look. This last statement was contested by a member who indicated that several of the masonry houses in that row have siding on them. Turnbull also contended that a site plan had not been provided relating to shared walks and yards. Jay Freedman agreed and indicated that members usually had to provide a full site plan before an addition was approved.

Phelan commented that although he recognizes the rights of the cooperative, in this instance he favored the rights of the individual. The addition exception request passed.

Retirement and insurance issues

The board next approved a slight revision to the retirement plan in place for GHI employees. The following item related to workers' compensation insurance. Management recommended canceling the current workers' compensation insurance and replacing it with the Injured Workers' Insurance Fund of Maryland. There would be a significant monetary savings for the same coverage. After discussion the board agreed to the proposal and also agreed to suspend the rules calling for a second reading so that the changes could be put into motion immediately.

Financing of buyer's fees

At the last meeting, management was requested to bring back information on financing of buyer's fees that was prepared last year for the board. This project was intended to help buyers who did not have the required cash to purchase a home in GHI. It is possible, however, that providing this financing could adversely affect GHI's financial status. Leonard Wallace, a GHI member and local realtor, indicated that decreasing upfront costs would improve sales. Turnbull questioned the need to collect all of the working capital up front and suggested that an annual fee could be collected instead. Board member Carole Levin suggested forming a committee to research these issues.

Henry made a motion for management to explore financing options with banks and other institutions. Gretchen Overdurf, general manager, mentioned GHI's lack of success in this area in the past, but indicated she is willing to re-explore it.

will be used to expand the Anacostia stream valley trail system for both the northeast and northwest branches. "All these bike plans," he said, "will be completed so that you will have direct access from Montgomery County, from the Greenbelt Station, to the West Hyattsville Station. You will also be able to go to the College Park Station . . . We are now missing a few links from getting from these trails to the PG Plaza Station . . . They're under construction. We will have easily 20 miles of trails to get you to the Metro stations."

Hare called the combination of Metro stations fed by stream valleys and trail system "incredible." He noted that he was on a committee to extend this trail system into the District to Union Station and the mall with its wealth of museums. At the other end, beyond the Greenbelt city limits, is 40 square miles of "open space heaven."

Other Questions

Alexander Barnes, Jr. questioned why developers were not limited in the number of parking spaces that they could build, since these spaces cost money and encourage car use. Derro noted that in the transportation management districts parking spaces were restricted and that under certain circumstances none would be required at employment centers next to Metro stations. However, lenders were not willing to lend money for projects that did not provide parking.

Barry Schlessinger criticized development for not being centralized and concentrated in order to make public transportation more convenient. "What can you do to keep that from happening in the future?" he asked. Hare advocated changing the incentive system. He noted that 65 percent of work trips were under six miles and could be done within 45 minutes by bike.

Castaldi said there was a need to rethink where development was going and to use a "carrot and stick" approach. "We have to look at neighborhoods that have good transportation systems and encourage growth in those locations," he advocated.

Derro noted he would be "tarred and feathered" if he proposed high density development. He felt that kids wanted homes of their own with yards and fences and not apartments. In order for them to obtain low cost housing, Derro foresaw that they would have to go as far as Queen Anne County, across the bay. Eunice Coxon later asked, "Can you blame us for opposing high-rises?" Derro, who frequently has appeared before irate groups on transportation issues, responded, "I can't blame you. Just don't take it out on me."

Composting Pallets Available Free

The Public Works Department has a limited number of wooden pallets available to residents interested in backyard composting. The department can also provide a free brochure with composting information. Compost improves soil quality by increasing water retention, drainage and aeration. Plants grown with compost are more resistant to pests and diseases. For the brochure or pallets, call the Recycling Coordinator at 474-8308.

Greenbelt Girls Win County Championship

by Dennis Lewis

The Greenbelt Boys & Girls Club 14 & under girls softball team ended their perfect 10-0 season to win the Prince Georges County AA Championship. The girls proved to be unbeatable, and in most cases, unstoppable!

For the most part, the first game of the season served as the championship game when Greenbelt took on the tough Berwyn Heights team. While it was not known at the time, Berwyn Heights would strongly finish in second place. The game was tied going into the last inning when a two out rally gave Greenbelt the 12 to 10 victory.

Sixteen girls made up the championship squad. Additionally, successful seasons were also had by the Greenbelt 16 & under team with 17 girls (coached by Dave Coley and Rick Ranson) and the 12 & under team with 13 girls (coached by Ernestine Rivers). The whole community is real proud of all of our girls and the fact that such a strong softball program is emerging. It is particularly noteworthy in that up to three years ago, girls' softball in Greenbelt had been dormant for five years.

A strong battery of Katie Lee pitching (.750 batting average and winning pitcher of each game) and Marcella Smid catching (.846 and 7 doubles) set the nucleus of the team's talent. The infield's defense was intimidating and included Sima Fadli (.843 & 8 home runs), Katie Evans (.682), Ashley Dial (.667 & scoring 27 runs) and Sarah Lewis (.520 & 5 triples). Hustling outfielders included Michelle Smith (.523), Jackie Traas (.571), Katie Broderick (.461), Kristina Zugby (.909), Jackie Coulter (.545), and Heather Durance (.400). Sherry Henderson, Leta Green, Latasha Hailey, and Tammy Smith also played integral parts throughout the season.

The team was proudly coached by Reggie Smith, Paul Durance and Dennis Lewis, also softball commissioner. Success for the girls next year almost seems assured in that eight of the nine starters will be returning. To celebrate the season, all three of the girls softball teams will be

ERHS Student Wins Car

Monica Lin, a 1994 graduate of Eleanor Roosevelt High School, won a car provided by Prince Georges County. Monica was selected as a semi-finalist in the drawing for the car at the all night Grad Night party held June 1 at the Greenbelt Youth and Aquatic Centers. She competed with students from three other county high schools, Laurel, Northwestern, and Frederick Douglass. Only candidates from graduation/prom celebrations which are alcohol and drug free and meet other strict criteria set by the school board's Office of Drug Education were eligible to participate in the drawing.

The ceremony and drawing were held on July 11 in Upper Marlboro. Prince Georges County Director of Public Safety, Jim Estep, representing County Executive Parris Glendening, officiated and presented baseball tickets to all the semi-finalists. The drawing was then held for a white 1983 Dodge Aries with 53,000 miles. The car was surplus county property which was cleaned and fixed up for the occasion. Afterward Sonia Green, co-chair of the 1994 ERHS Grad Night Committee, announced the committee would donate $300 toward the cost of registering the car.

Grasscycling Info

Greenbelt's Recycling Coordinator urges residents to consider "grasscycling" — mulching the clippings back into the lawn. This hydrates the lawn and returns valuable nutrients while reducing the time required to mow the lawn. For a brochure about grass cycling or backyard composting, call the City Recycling Coordinator at 474-8308.

Fifty Years Ago Four Hours of Hell

by James Giese

June, 1944—The "Greenbelt Cooperator" told the story first published by a camp paper "Bombs Away" printed somewhere in Italy on June 4 about the ride of the "Texas Star," a Liberator bomber whose crew included Greenbelter Dick Bates. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bates of 13-F Ridge Road, the Staff Sergeant was a veteran of 21 missions over Germany, Italy, Yugoslavia (sic), Rumania (sic), Austria and France.

Over what was to have been a routine mission target, a shell hit one engine and before the pilot could level the plane, it had dropped four thousand feet. Then flack struck, ripping out the hydraulic system and smashing the bomb sight. The airship found itself alone in the flak area with nearly all guns targeted on it. Two flak bursts slashed across the nose turret without injuring the nose gunner.

The bomb bay doors wouldn't close and the flight engineer tried to do it manually to prevent the flak getting inside the plane without success. A burst came through the nose wheel door and ran along the arm of the navigator, just barely missing him.

Emerging from the danger region, the crew heaved a sigh of relief when suddenly another flak area appeared and all Hades broke loose. Sgt. Bates turned from his gun and came back to find a flak hole waist high and level with where he had been standing. Another sergeant reached for an oxygen bottle and saw a hole appear inches above his head as metal whizzed through the flight deck missing three men by a fraction.

Breaking out of trouble, the flight engineer determined that the brakes were about gone and he thought they had a flat tire. Determined to stick with it, the crew chose not to bail out. At last, after four hours of hell the unscathed crew landed safely on the ground. It was then an injury occurred when the co-pilot jumped to the ground from the plane and twisted his knee. He was carried away by the previously unneeded ambulance.

A new bulletin board for the group picnic area is being installed and city crews worked on that project during the week.

Flowerbeds were prepared and annuals planted at the entrance to Buddy Attick Park and beside and at the Greenbelt Museum and the entrance to Boxwood Village the Police Station. The flower beds at Schrom Hills Park were cleaned, the pansies removed and soil prepared.

Greenbelt Resident Slain

In D.C. Double Shooting

A Greenbelt resident who worked in a D.C. market was shot to death during an attempted robbery last week. The store's owner was also wounded.

Ik Soo Ahn, 41, of the 7900 block of Mandan Road, was transported to D.C. General Hospital, where he died shortly after his arrival, according to D.C. Police.

Police said that a man armed with a handgun walked into Tony's Market at 5319 East Capitol Street, S.E. and demanded money. He then shot Ahn and the store's owner, but did not succeed in obtaining any cash. The incident occurred around 12:30 p.m. on July 5.

"It looks like it wasn't well-planned," said Officer Quinton Peterson, a spokesman for D.C.'s Metropolitan Police Department. "This seems like something that was just a crime of opportunity."

According to D.C. Police the store's owner was shot, but his wound was not considered life-threatening. His name is being withheld because he is a witness.

The area where the shooting took place, located near Seat Pleasant and Capital Heights, is less than a mile from the border of the District and Prince Georges County. It is about 10 miles from Greenbelt.

Reward Offered

Police described the suspect in the shootings as a black male of dark complexion, between 28 and 29 years old, 5'9" tall, and weighing 120-130 lbs. He was wearing a black baseball cap, blue jeans, and a white T-shirt. The lower half of his face was concealed by a black scarf with a white design.

He is wanted for felony murder, which is homicide committed during a serious crime.

Police are offering $1,000 for information that leads to an arrest and indictment in the case. Informants may contact either the Homicide unit at 202-727-4347 or the D.C. Crime Solvers Unit at 1-800-673-2777. All calls to the Crime Solvers Unit are confidential.

The key points of the law are: Signs are prohibited on SHA property or right of way. Before posting any signs on private property, permission must be granted by the property owner or authorized representative. Signs must also conform to any local restrictions, zoning regulations and time limitations. No signs are to be posted more than 45 days prior to the election date. Signs for unsuccessful primary election candidates must be removed within 15 days after the General Election. No signs are permitted along interstate highways.
